Former Bergen County Republican Organization Secretary Paul A. Duggan endorses Murray Sabrin for U.S. Senate

Paul A. Duggan, a former leader in the Bergen County Republicans, has endorsed Libertarian Murray Sabrin for the U.S. Senate.

In a statement today, Duggan referred to Republican Senate candidate Bob Hugin as "the latest of the NJ GOP Johnny-come-latelies whose Republican nomination was purchased in exchange for cash, at the expense of the Party base".

After Hugin declared that he was a "different kind of Republican," Duggan observed, "Hugin never sat in the front pew in the halls of Constitutional Republicanism, instead he appeared from behind a consultant's desk with a checkbook amidst in the ranks of the Democrat auxiliary, spouting New Jersey liberal doctrine talking points, while taking veiled snide swipes at our duly elected president."

"Contrast Hugin's candidacy," Duggan asserted, "to that of Murray Sabrin's lifetime dedication to, and knowledge of, the principles of liberty continues to make him an effective advocate for freeing the people of New Jersey—and the Nation—from excessive taxes, debt, and inflation, as well as ending the ongoing violations of our right to free speech, property, and privacy."

"Murray like me is a naturalized citizen who took an oath to uphold the US Constitution in June 1959. He would be loyal to that oath in the U.S. Senate, that's why I am crossing party lines and endorsing him. I urge my fellow Republicans and disgruntled Democrats to enthusiastically rally behind Murray's bid to defeat Bob Menendez."

According to Sabrin, "I am grateful for Paul's endorsement, which shows we are continuing to build a coalition across the political spectrum of New Jerseyans who want a U.S. Senator to stand up for principles that made America a free and prosperous country. Unfortunately, both major political parties have embraced big government policies that have created a welfare-warfare society built on unsustainable debt. It is time we return to the tried and true values that work for all Americans--voluntarism, free enterprise, limited government and peaceful relations with other nations."

Duggan is a lifetime Republican and immigrant from Dublin, who worked under General Colin Powell as Deputy Chief QC Logistics at V Corps, in Frankfurt, Germany during the 1980s, and who won two county conventions, in 2007 and 2008.
